Prerequisite: To enroll in this course, you must have previously attended and successfully completed either a LEEMCC or First Responder course. Please bring your current first responder card with you to class.

If your LEEMCC certification has expired, you are required to complete the recertification class within one year of the expiration date. If it has been over a year since your certification expired, you will not be eligible for the recertification course and will need to complete the full LEEMCC training course again.

The Law Enforcement Emergency Medical Care Course (LEEMCC) was developed in 2007 and 2008 in response to the Maryland law enforcement community's request to create a medical course with specificity and applicability to law enforcement's needs. This course is designed for the individual seeking to renew their certification. The course addresses major medical, trauma, and resuscitation situations encountered by law enforcement officers, including a unique Care Under Fire.

Upon completion of this course, the student should be able to:

1. Demonstrate proper patient assessment of a medical and trauma patient.
2. Recognize and manage traumatic bleeding emergencies.
3. Recognize and provide applicable care under fire.
4. Demonstrate and successfully pass a CPR test and practical.
5. Understand how to reduce or eliminate responder and motorist injuries and fatalities at incident scenes.

This course is designed to meet requirements as mandated by the Maryland Police Training Commission and to meet the annual in-service requirements.

Class Size: Restricted size, seating is limited.

Attendance: You must attend the entire class to receive in-service credit.
